

NEWS CLIPS

APSCUF COMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENT

KEVIN KODISH, DIRECTOR

MONICA TROUTMAN, SECRETARY

DECEMBER 1, 2009

HERE IS A LIST OF TODAY'S NEWS ARTICLES. TO READ THE COMPLETE ARTICLE CLICK ON THE HEADLINE.

Edinboro University opens indoor facility to all sports

EDINBORO -- The huge white structure serves as a reminder of the tons of snow the Edinboro area gets pounded with over the seemingly extended winter months. Mike S. Zafirovski, a member of Edinboro University's first swim team in 1971 and a 1975 graduate, remembers that time as if it were yesterday. Yet... - ERIE TIMES

In Brief

LOCK HAVEN — Lock Haven University President Keith T. Miller said Monday he will step down June 30, 2010, to accept the position of president of Virginia State University in Petersburg, Va. Miller has been Lock Haven University president since July 2004. CENTRE DAILY

PSU's home tops list for crime safety

State College was recently named the safest metropolitan statistical area in the nation in a Congressional Quarterly Press ranking, moving up from the No. 2 spot it received in 2008. The State College metropolitan area which includes all of Centre County, had the lowest crime rate among the 332 metropolitan statistical areas that... - PATRIOT

Editorial: Paying for college

Health reform isn't the only important measure awaiting Senate action. That chamber also has before it legislation that would finally knock private lenders out of the lucrative college loan business. The sooner that happens, the better. Eliminating the current middleman... - INQUIRER

RACC offering Latinos opportunity (12/01/09)

A tip of the hat to Kutztown University President Dr. Javier Cevallos and State System of Higher Education Chancellor Dr. John Cavanaugh for leading a candid discussion on increasing the enrollment of Latino students in institutions of higher education ("Tackling Latinos' low college... - READING EAGLE

Inside Higher Education Daily News Update

December 1, 2009

Stopping Short of No More French Fries

December 1, 2009

As Lincoln U. debates fitness requirement for obese students, other institutions search for less controversial ways to deal with the issue.

The Big Admissions Shift

December 1, 2009

While everyone obsesses over the Ivies and Berkeley, Cal State -- the largest university system in the United States -- moves from being non-competitive to competitive on who gets in.

Tufts Defines Speech Limits

December 1, 2009

Trustees approve a policy that applauds free expression, but says it's not an "absolute" right on campus.

Aggressive Tack on Incentive Comp

December 1, 2009

In first proposals on new rules on aid programs, Education Department suggests ending "safe harbors" on bonus pay for student recruiters.

Standing Up to Threats

December 1, 2009

Finding "free expression at risk," academic and civil liberties groups issue joint call to defend controversial speakers, books and exhibits.