

NEWS CLIPS

APSCUF COMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENT

KEVIN KODISH, DIRECTOR

MONICA TROUTMAN, SECRETARY

NOVEMBER 18, 2009

HERE IS A LIST OF TODAY'S NEWS ARTICLES. TO READ THE COMPLETE ARTICLE CLICK ON THE HEADLINE.

Penn State still waiting, hoping state appropriation will be adequate

By: Michael Pound
Beaver County Times

Tuesday November 17, 2009 06:36 PM

CENTER TWP. — Penn State is at the point of the academic year at which it is preparing tuition bills for the upcoming spring semester.

Rep. Paul Clymer: Clymer supports legislation to ban teacher strikes in Pennsylvania.

Text of Nov. 18 press release. Capitolwire.com

Bucks County lawmaker supports uninterrupted education for all students

State Rep. Paul Clymer (R-Bucks), Republican chairman of the House Education Committee, is a co-sponsor of legislation to constitutionally ban teacher strikes and other public school lockouts in the Commonwealth.

A critical look at the SAT and ACT

Of all the trials facing high school students, the one that may be the most daunting is taking the SAT and/or the ACT college admissions tests. The results can determine where they attend college, making these exams, and the organizations that own them, very powerful.... - WASH POST

Ohio State's ticket costs dwarf PSU's

UNIVERSITY PARK - Many Penn State fans are frustrated or angry over reports about a substantial hike in season-ticket prices, but they also should know that for years it's been cheaper to attend games at Beaver Stadium than it has been at more than half the other schools in the Big Ten.... - ALTOONA MIRROR

Franklin & Marshall College students, faculty live in tent in green campaign

One gallon of water, two hours of electricity, organic food, no meat. That would be your sustenance for one day. Could you do it? Could you simplify your daily routine by living lightly to help save our planet? That is precisely what a few dozen Franklin & Marshall College students and... - INTELLIGENCER JOURNAL

Don't cut back on business that helps students, families

Editor: Last month the House of Representatives passed the Student Aid and Fiscal Responsibility Act, which, if passed in the Senate, would require all colleges to convert to the federal Direct Loan Program by July 1, 2010. I want to praise our elected officials for having the courage to try to do... - WB CIT. VOICE

Prof and student weigh in on approach to drinking culture

While discussion of dangerous drinking problems at Penn State should consider all positions, the Nov. 17 editorial "Drinking age a worthy debate" failed to consider some facts. First, contrary to anecdotal comments, data from the European School Survey Project on Alcohol and Other Drugs and the United States Monitoring the... - COLLEGIAN

Environmentalist to speak at Cal U.

An environmentalist, activist and fourth-generation shrimp boat captain will speak Thursday at California University of Pennsylvania. Diane Wilson of Seadrift, who spent 74 days in a Texas jail for protesting a chemical plant, is the university's keynote speaker for its American... - WASH. O.R.

Anti-poverty activist urges IUP students to get involved

In 40 years of working with the poor, Bill Strickland knows this for a fact — being poor doesn't mean you're not able. He's watched welfare mothers become pharmacy technicians. He's seen drug addicts learn how to cultivate beautiful orchids. He's seen inner city kids... - TRIB

Panel sheds light on housing issue

If a problem isn't easily seen, does that mean it doesn't exist? State College has a homelessness issue that is difficult to identify -- a problem that the Faces of Homelessness Panel discussed on campus last week. College towns frequently have housing issues that are raised in public... -

COLLEGIAN

Labor Fight Ends in Win for Students

The anti-sweatshop movement at dozens of American universities, from Georgetown to U.C.L.A., has had plenty of idealism and energy, but not many victories. Until now. The often raucous student movement announced on Tuesday that it had achieved its biggest victory by far. Its pressure tactics persuaded one of... - NY TIMES

Enrollment in Pennsylvania's 529 Guaranteed Savings Plan leaps

As the parent of a high school junior, John Paul isn't thrilled with the state's guaranteed college savings plan, but he has a vested — or rather, invested — interest. He's not alone. Worries about paying for college are helping to drive up enrollment and contributions into the state's 529 Guaranteed Savings Plan, which allows... - TRIB

Business News brief

Read 'Professional of Year' Byron L. Read Jr., chief executive of Old Forge-based Positive Results Marketing Inc. and president of The Target Shopper Magazine Inc., has been named a Professional of the Year in Marketing & Advertising by the Cambridge Who's Who Registry. A selection committee chose two male and... - WB TIMES LEADER

Your Letters: Wednesday

Not so Penn State proud When I arrived in State College three months ago, I was filled with excitement to be studying at Penn State. I knew I would be in for a culture shock. But I never expected a shock this big. For months leading up to my arrival I was very aware of our standing as the... - CENTRE DAILY