

NEWS CLIPS

APSCUF COMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENT

KEVIN KODISH, DIRECTOR

MONICA TROUTMAN, SECRETARY

DECEMBER 3, 2009

HERE IS A LIST OF TODAY'S NEWS ARTICLES. TO READ THE COMPLETE ARTICLE CLICK ON THE HEADLINE.

Fidelity cuts fees on college savings plans

NEW YORK -- Fidelity Investments says it is slashing maintenance fees on the 529 college savings plans it runs in five states... - AP

Pittsburgh Technical Institute offers on-campus housing

The kitchen that Pittsburgh Technical Institute student Melissa Bankert shares with three roommates is well-stocked with college dormitory fare. "We have a lot of Rice-A-Roni," the 19-year-old said with a laugh as she opened a cupboard. Wall hangings, ... - POST-GAZ.

Pittsburgh tuition tax plan delayed

Pittsburgh Mayor Luke Ravenstahl sent to the city's financial overseers Wednesday a revised 2010 spending plan that identifies an additional $6.4 million in estimated revenue and $7.3 million in savings. "It was a collective process," said Yarone Zober, Ravenstahl's chief .. - TRIB

PSU professor feels fallout of e-mails

Michael Mann says he shunned using data from tree rings because they provide an inaccurate measure of changing temperatures. Answering critics questioning the integrity of his research he says shows planetary temperatures are rising, Penn State University's Michael Mann... - TRIB

Council postpones vote on taxing tuition

City hopes delay will spark talks with universities Thursday, December 03, 2009 By Rich Lord, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette Pittsburgh City Council postponed a planned vote on a controversial tuition tax proposal yesterday in hopes of sparking talks with universities. The... - POST-GAZ.

Inside Higher Education Daily News Update

December 3, 2009

Opening Old Wounds in Anthropology

December 3, 2009

At their annual meeting, scholars fan the flames of a decade-old controversy over research on a South American tribe.

Movement, But Miles to Go

December 3, 2009

Data on associate degrees and certificates awarded show upturn -- but not nearly enough to put U.S. on track to Obama goal.

New Wave of Student Activism

December 3, 2009

Are the protests in California the start of a new national movement for access and affordability?

The Long Road to 'Gatekeeper' Courses

December 3, 2009

New analysis shows just how unlikely it is for many who enter remedial programs to reach college-level work.