

NEWS CLIPS

APSCUF COMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENT

KEVIN KODISH, DIRECTOR

MONICA TROUTMAN, SECRETARY

FEBRUARY 18, 2010

HERE IS A LIST OF TODAY'S NEWS ARTICLES. TO READ THE COMPLETE ARTICLE CLICK ON THE HEADLINE.

Plan would let students graduate early

Pennsylvania is among eight states that will pilot a plan that could result in some students earning a high school diploma and entering college at the end of 10th grade. The National Center on Education and the Economy on Wednesday announced the program, which is based on what the group views.... - POST-GAZ.

CMU class aims to help transform needy communities

A Carnegie Mellon University class that combines course work with real-life issues is giving municipal leaders fresh ideas on how to improve their communities. Each semester, master's degree students enrolled in the sustainable community development course in CMU's School of.... - TRIB

Bulletin board: Albright College lecture to feature husband of Virginia Tech victim

|More The husband of a victim of the Virginia Tech massacre in April 2007 will talk about the tragedy during a presentation at Albright College. Jerzy Nowak, founding director of Virginia Tech's Center for Peace Studies and Violence Prevention, will present the 10th annual Ellen S. Hurwitz... - READING EAGLE

Moravian College discontinues lacrosse teams as part of cost-cutting measure

Moravian College will cut its men and women's lacrosse teams as a "response to ongoing financial challenges spurred by the troubled national economy," according to a news release. The teams will cease competing at the Division III level after their upcoming spring seasons.... - MORNING CALL

Alvernia mourns passing of longtime professor, official

Sister Mary Pacelli, who helped steer Alvernia University through five decades as a beloved professor and visionary administrator, died Tuesday. "She was an Alvernia treasure," said Dr. Thomas F. Flynn, university president. "We are feeling a great sense of loss, but also great joy in and... - READING EAGLE

Early graduations move ahead for Pennsylvania students

Some high-achieving Pennsylvania high school students will be able to graduate two years early as soon as spring 2013. An initiative of the nonprofit National Center on Education and the Economy in Washington, D.C., it will begin on a pilot basis for freshmen in 10 to... - TRIB

Moravian College restricts off-campus housing starting next year

BETHLEHEM | Starting next fall, all but commuter students at Moravian College will be required to live on campus. College officials say the new rule is in line with their goal of being a residential campus, with 85 percent of students living in college-owned... - EASTON EXPRESS

Engineering academy adds 3 from CMU

Three area academics were elected to the National Academy of Engineering. They are Jacobo Bielak, professor of civil and environmental engineering at Carnegie Mellon University and director of its Computational Seismology Lab, for work in earthquake engineering; Tom Mitchell, professor of... - TRIB

Inside Higher Education

Daily News Update

February 18, 2010

Step Right Up

Sensing opportunity, more private institutions court community college transfer students. more

Bold Choices

Grinnell's new president reflects growing trend of liberal arts colleges hiring leaders from different kinds of institutions -- a development that may also increase the diversity of the selections. more

Scariest Forum on the Internet?

University of Chicago Press launches Chicago Manual of Style Online forum for wordsmiths -- at least, those brave enough to post. more

'The Challenge of Bologna'

Author discusses new book on impact of Europe's unified plans for cross-border higher education. more

New Presidents or Provosts: Centenary College \(La.\), Central Georgia Technical College, Essex County College, Harrison College, Southwestern Oklahoma State U., Truman State U. more