

NEWS CLIPS

APSCUF COMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENT

KEVIN KODISH, DIRECTOR

MONICA TROUTMAN, SECRETARY

MARCH 22, 2010

HERE IS A LIST OF TODAY'S NEWS ARTICLES. TO READ THE COMPLETE ARTICLE CLICK ON THE HEADLINE

Universities, unions reach retirement accord

The state university system has reached an agreement with five of its unions on a voluntary retirement incentive that will help control the system's future labor costs.

College scramble after donations decline

Several local colleges and universities experienced a drop in private giving last year on account of the recession. In fact, a survey released last month by the Council for Aid to Education, a New York-based nonprofit, found that contributions to higher learning... - BC TIMES

Bringing efficiency home

Expo at NCC shows the latest ways your home can be more earth-friendly The Lehigh Valley Green Building Expo isn't your everyday environmental showroom. Yes, the 11-hour event Saturday featured green mainstays like solar panels and energy-efficient.... - MORNING CALL

Program for black students may grow

The Negro Educational Emergency Drive wants to expand to help students in area charter schools and suburban schools outside the city of Pittsburgh. NEED has long wanted to link students in outlying areas to the same access to mentoring, college advisement and.... - TRIB

Medical school in the works

John Fry's tenure as president of Franklin & Marshall College was marked by growth and major projects. One of the biggest might come after he leaves. Fry, who will end his eight-year tenure at F&M and take over as president of Drexel University in Philadelphia this.... - SUNDAY NEWS

At Temple, a grand old church is reborn

By Elisa Lala Inquirer Staff Writer At Broad and Berks Streets in North Philadelphia, the 36,000-square-foot Baptist Temple, a once-upon-a-time Romanesque church now owned by Temple University, stands like a mysterious, lifeless elephant. At a ribbon-cutting April 14, the 119-year-old building will.... -

INQUIRER

03-21-2010

Northampton Community College starts table games classes for Sands Casino Resort Bethlehem on Monday

Looking for more excitement, Eric Troxell switched in October from making pizza at Sands Casino Resort Bethlehem's food court to being one of the casino's cage workers who cashes out winning vouchers. In four months, the 25-year-old Allentown resident.... - EASTON EXPRESS

Underage and undercover: Police officers find gaps in compliance at downtown State College bars

STATE COLLEGE — When the state police liquor control enforcement officers come into town to do age-compliance checks on downtown bars, they are lucky if they get one or two done a night. That's because once the first bar is told it has served someone younger... - CENTRE DAILY

March sadness

As millions of Americans labored over their March Madness brackets last week, many turned to the Ratings Percentage Index for guidance. "RPI" is, basically, a computerized analysis of each team's performance, based on the quality of the teams it beat during the.... - SCRANTON TIMES

State-owned universities offer retirement incentive

HARRISBURG - Pennsylvania's state-owned universities are offering cash incentives to entice about 400 senior employees to retire... - AP

College sets table for tourney

MINNEAPOLIS -- Aaron Kemp was as much tour guide as cheerleader on Friday. Mercyhurst College President Tom Gamble, Provost James Adovasio and Executive Vice President Gary Brown arrived in time to watch their women's hockey team go to overtime.... - ERIE TIMES

Penn State proud of Chancellor Hanes

One of central Pennsylvania's great success stories through the last few years has unfolded on 218 acres of mostly hidden land across from Harrisburg International Airport. It is the growth of Penn State Harrisburg from an almost completely commuter school serving junior.... - PATRIOT

New Jersey students to lose out on state scholarship to attend community college

Phillipsburg resident Amanda Renkel spoke to a group of high school students a few weeks ago about a New Jersey scholarship program that covered her and her older sister's educations at Warren County Community College. Now that program has fallen prey.... - EASTON EXPRESS

Inside Higher Education Daily News Update

March 22, 2010

Student Loan Overhaul Advances

Overshadowed by health care, legislation to end lender-based federal loans and use savings to shore up grants for needy students nears final approval. more

What Part-Timers Want

National survey finds generally high job satisfaction, but many fault salaries, lack of health insurance or difficulty of moving to full-time faculty ranks. more

Open Courseware in the Liberal Arts

Saint Michael's College thinks persuading its faculty to use free courseware from peer institutions could improve its liberal arts curriculum. more

Aim High Without Fear

New research discounts idea that those who aspire to a college degree and fail to attain one will suffer psychological damage. more

No Increases for Mid-Level Pay

Whether in academic affairs, student affairs, or the business side of the house, salaries were stagnant, survey finds. more

Attracting Women to STEM

Analysis considers reasons for the continuing (if shrinking) gender gap. more